Eight years ago and four years ago the Republican party made the people pledges of Reform, the same as they make them now, but not a single promise has been redeemed. - On the contrary, things have been going from bad to worse. And eight years ago and four years ago the Radical party pursued the same course of threatening and intimidation it is now pursuing. But this time it is all gammon. The civil law is now supreme and the writ of Habeas Corpus is no longer exhausted. Settle is no longer Judge, ere required to take a solemn oath ot to interfere with it, and yet say the Radicals this was subversive of their rights and derogatory to their dignity?

It is to Democratical persecution and Democratic regard for the sanctity of a solemn oath and to Democratic respect for Legislative authority that the people owe the preservation of the Homestead Law.

The man who says the Homestead Law will be endangered by the ratification of the amendments or by the access of the Democratic party is then a fool or a liar.

In the struggle over these reductions between the Democrats, the House and the Senate, the Democrats were compelled to yield to the extent of less than a half million. In other words, the Democrats had not been thwarted by the Radicals the appropriations would have been ten millions less than the tax revenue, and the national debt had been ten millions less.

blackened remains were found intact into a scarcely distinguishable mass. Thus has perished, in the hour of manhood, a gentleman of culture and esteemed by all who knew him. He held the rank of Major in the Confederate service, and at the close of the war was tried by a Federal military court on the false charge of complicity to prisoners confined at Salisbury and under his charge, but was acquitted. His shocking death will be remembered.

ne interest in the Constitutional amendments is not confined to the larger portion of the State, but is of every section. The Consensor publishes a series of appeals for public meetings in Guilford which the leading subject of discussion will be the importance of ratification of the amendments. We have no doubt that the amendments will fall, our ticket anywhere if our friends only take the trouble to tell the people what are the changes proposed made in the Constitution. We have nothing to fear from the fullest discussion. Our candidates and platform can stand any amount of investigation the people may desire to put them to. Firmly fixed in the principles of truth and justice the
